Title

Regular practice of Panchkarma to needed patients

Objectives

- 1) eliminate toxins and toxic conditions from body and mind.
- 2) restore constitutional balance improving health and wellness

The Context

PanchaKarma is a treatment program for the body, mind and consciousness that cleanses and rejuvenates.

It is based on Ayurvedic principles panchmahaboota sand three doshas. When doshic balance is disturbed it creates disorder resulting in disease.

Panchakarma is done individually for each person with their specific constitution and specific disorder in mind, thus it requires close observation and supervision.

For Sure, dedicated powerful unit for males and females was developed under the guidance of supreme authorities and Dr. Barhate sir and Dr. Survase madam in year 2013 under CSMSS Ayurved College and hospital roof with huge setup.

The Practice

Before the actual purification begins to encourage body to let go of the toxins .It starts with pre-purification measures of snehan and svedana and then cleansing methods - Shodhanas are applied .

PanchaKarma actually means ' five actions or five treatments'. There are five basic shodhanas included vaman, virechan, basti, nasya and raktamokshan.

Evidence of success

This practice has improved the awareness in people.

Problems encountered –

Some patients find procedures difficult.
